

katie bee – light and easy

I'm gazing at the moon
the light shines through my window I'm gazing at the moon
a gentle glow lights up my pillow

Sometimes, I try to picture myself how it would feel to be up there far away, looking down on you respiring, 'cause I can see it now oh so clear

Just staring at the moon wondering if it can see me I'm staring at the moon at last I'm feeling light and easy

At times my life is punishing me and I must face it all alone that is why I desperately need a journey far away from reality
